Letter of recommendation for Pedro Marques

To whom it may concern,

This is a letter of recommendation for Pedro Marques, who has been my MSc. student for the past year. Pedro was supervised by me, as a Master's degree candidate at Instituto Superior Técnico (University of Lisbon) and as an intern at Gympass¹.

The work produced was related to the use of graph neural networks for the task of recommending new gyms to Gympass users. I was able to verify that Pedro is a dedicated worker and an excellent team member, not only promptly carrying out the needed tasks as also actively cooperating with the remaining team members. In addition, Pedro has shown himself resourceful and inventive. These characteristics, together with a firm dedication to his work, allowed him to implement and test all suggestions, while also taking his own decisions and defending their outcomes.

At a personal level, Pedro is a communicative person, who gets along very well with all those he has worked with. From what I could observe, he is well respected by both his colleagues and his teachers.

In closing, I strongly believe that he has all the features of data engineer.

If any further comment is needed, I am available for contact at the above address.

Sincerely,

Pável Pereira Calado
